Symmetry™ Access Control is the intelligent platform that controls the secure movement of people and assets across your organization. Symmetry dynamically manages how your spaces operate, ensuring the right people, with the right credentials, access the right areas at precisely the right moments — all while protecting your most sensitive environments.

Symmetry Access Control provides a unified, real-time view of your entire security landscape. Whether it's monitoring daily operations or responding to critical incidents, Symmetry equips you with the actionable intelligence needed to assess situations quickly, make informed decisions, and take immediate action. Lock down facilities, launch automated workflows, and neutralize threats, all within a single, cohesive platform.

The platform adapts to the complexity of your organization while maintaining compliance, optimizing efficiency, and protecting against evolving risks.

Keep Your System Running Smoothly with the System Health Dashboard

The System Health Dashboard gives you a clear, real-time view of your system's status. Immediately, you can see the health of panels, readers, servers, and other devices, making it easy to spot issues early, keep your system running at peak performance, and plan for updates or maintenance.

- 🔍 Real-time visibility into critical components
- 🖥 Customized dashboards for a tailored experience
- ⚠ Accelerated troubleshooting

Elevate Access with Wallet Credentials

Users can access doors and secure areas using their mobile devices. Credentials are stored in either Apple Wallet on iPhone or Google Wallet on Android — giving users a secure, contactless experience with the device they already carry. No cards to issue, no badges to replace, just a faster, more convenient way to manage access.

AMAG Technology offers flexible mobile credential solutions through our Symmetry Blue readers and HID Signo readers, giving organizations the freedom to choose the right technology for their needs. Simple to issue, easy to manage, and always accessible — Symmetry Wallet credentials deliver a seamless experience for users and administrators alike.
